HONOURED SIR,

DIVINE Providence having, for several Years past, most graciously inclined the Minds of pious and charitable Persons, to promote Circulating Welsh Charity Schools, for the catechetical Instruction of poor ignorant People, and Children in Wales, with Success far beyond our Hopes and Prospect in the Beginning; the following Twenty Second yearly Account of them, begs leave to inform their compassionate Benefactors, that the Number of Schools last Year ending at Michaelmas 1758; amounted to Two Hundred and Eighteen; and the Number of Scholars to Nine Thousand Eight Hundred and Thirty Four; being the greatest Number taught in one Year since the Schools began, the Counties and Parishes, wherein they were taught may be seen in the List of them at the End of these Papers.

THE Sight of so many trained up Disciples to our blessed Redeemer, their Saviour and ours, were they to be seen all together by their Benefactors, would, I believe, make a most amiable Appearance. To behold their innocent Looks, with their artless Behaviour, and unaffected Simplicity, so dear to our blessed Redeemer, and which he proposed as a Pattern to all his Followers; to hear them, who before were most deplorably ignorant, pray unto, and praise the almighty God, giving an Account of their Faith and Principles of Religion with Understanding and Seriousness superior to their Years, would surely rejoice and warm the Hearts of their charitable Friends. And may we not suppose their holy Angels to be highly delighted with it, who always behold the Face of God which is in Heaven? For we are assured, that there is Joy among them, over one Sinner that repenteth.

DID you assist but one precious immortal Soul of your poor Brethren, to obtain eternal Life; were you instrumental, through Grace, in rescuing one Sinner from everlasting Destruction; it would not only be an Acquisition infinitely more valuable than all the Charge about it, but would afford far greater and more durable, divine Joy and Pleasure, than the Possession of all the Kingdoms of this World and the Glory of them can bestow. With what Comfort and Satisfaction, (with great Praise to God,) may you then reflect, that by his Grace you are giving your Assistance, toward saving of Thousands? But the greatest Joy that good Men can feel in well doing now, though it exceeds all the Pleasures of this World, is, comparatively, but a small Earnest of an infinitely greater Joy, and glorious Reward hereafter.

IT is true indeed that the effectual Success of any Scheme of this Sort, can hardly be exactly ascertained; but it is from such Seeds as these, under the Influence of God's Blessing, (which never fails accompanying pious Attempts) that we can reasonably hope for the best Success in promoting the Salvation of the Poor. Training up Children in the Way they should go, will, it is hoped, preserve great Numbers of them from Error, Vice and Profaneness, in the future Part of their Lives. We know by Experience that those Things which are first fixed in the Mind and Memory, do always make the deepest and most lasting Impression: and, if some of the young Ones, falling into bad Hands, lose in some Measure the Benefit and Lustre of their Instruction, yet the Christian Principles and sacred Truths of God's holy Word implanted in them, which remain there as incorruptible Seed, lying hid, and, as it were buried in their Hearts for a Time, may, by some merciful Affliction, or gracious Visitation from the Holy Spirit, be awakened again, to bring forth vigorous Shoots afresh, of holy Life and Conversation.

It has been too just and too common a Complaint, that Children lose much of their good Improvement at School, by the bad Examples, and vicious Behaviour of their Parents at Home. However this is not always the Case; some Parents are better disposed than others; some there are who catechise their Children, and see that they say their Prayers devoutly. I am also credibly informed, that several of the Welsh Scholars have even taught their own Parents to read the Word of God, and that they also persuade them to join with them in the Prayers they learned at School, as well as to say Grace before, and after their Meals. In this uncommon Manner have Parents been instructed, structed, who knew not what it was to pray, or to read, in all their Lives before.

THESE Schools have gained so much Approbation and Credit, that they are eagerly desired, where they are known, as appears by above Two Hundred and Fifty Letters, and Certificates received this Year from Clergymen and others, who therein desire to return both their own, and the general Thanks of their Parishes and Neighbourhoods, to the benevolent Supporters of this Charity, praying God to bless, and reward them; and at the same Time requesting that the Schools may be continued. The ill-grounded Prejudices they once combated with are vanished; all rational and thinking People being thoroughly convinced of their great usefulness to Society.

HAVING troubled you, Sir, with my Account of them so often before, I can hardly recollect any Thing new to inform you of; only it may not be improper to let you know that they still go on in the same Method, circulating from one Place to another, instructing the poor Scholars carefully in the Principles and Duties of Religion, by catechising of them twice every Day, besides teaching them to Read, and to say their Prayers with Seriousness and Devotion. In this expeditious, cheap and sure Method of teaching them their Duty, most of the poor Scholars have (under the Tuition of pious and well-qualified Masters) acquired a much larger Fund of Christian Knowledge in a few Months, than is commonly learned in some Years: However incredible this may appear to Strangers, I know it to be true of very very many of these religious Nurseries: The Success of them depends much, under God, on the pious Zeal of faithful Pastors, and their Appointment of pious and proper Schoolmasters. I wish all were equally well inclined to this Labour of Love; and I cannot but say with an aching Heart that the Careless and Treacherous, in a Trust of such important Consequence, where the Salvation of their People is so greatly concerned, cannot but have a dreadful Account to give*.

* “ Parents, Teachers, Spiritual Pastors and Masters, who “ let their Children (or those under their Inspection) perish for “ want of due Care, should consider that they are answerable “ to God for their Souls, and for the Mischief they do in “ the World, which might very likely by them have been pre“ vented: And this is a Consideration that should make neg“ ligent Parents, Teachers, Spiritual Pastors and Masters trem“ ble. And I would desire them to consider beforehand, what “ they will be able to answer when they must appear before “ the great Tribunal of Heaven, and these whom they per“ haps had undone by their Negligence, shall there turn their “ Accusers. This will be an amazing Scene indeed! It will “ be terrible enough to see them whom we loved in an undone “ Condition; but to see them withal charging us as the Cause of “ their Ruin, and pleading against us before God, must needs “ strike an unspeakable Horror into us. How it will pierce
 “ our Souls when we shall see them on Christ’s left Hand, “ ready to receive that Sentence of Go, ye cursed; and they “ shall thus address themselves to us: See now what a Con“ dition your Neglect of me has brought me to. God com“ mitted me to your Care, and you took no Care of me then,
 “ when I could take no Care of myself, but let me go on in “ Sin, and contract such wicked Habits as have brought me “ to this sad State. Why did not you instruct me better, and “ ply my Mind when it was tender, with the frequent Thoughts
 “ of these Things we now see? Why did not you fright me “ out

That Benefit is very evident where the Attempt is well executed. We have some very late, as well as many former Instances, that whole Congregations have greatly wondered at the Proficiency of the poor Scholars, when they have been publicly examined by the Minister, or sometimes by the Schoolmaster; which very much affected most, if not all the Auditors; some Parents weeping for Joy to see the Progress their poor Children had made in Christian Knowledge, some old People weeping for Sorrow that they themselves had not been taught in the same manner when they were Young. Some charitable Persons observing the Nakedness of the Poorest, and best Learners, were moved to bestow Cloathing upon them; some whole Families have been much reformed by them to worship God, to sanctify the Lord's Day, and to reverence his holy Name, and his Word. Some very elderly People have resorted to these Schools, and some of them have come afterward to be publicly Catechised; they, and their Children together.

COULD this humble Undertaking, Sir, which you, and other good People so generously support, have so good an Effect, so great an Influence, if the divine Favour did not attend it? Or without the

" out of my Sin, by the constant Representation of this terrible Time, and the sad Things that are to follow? Had you done this earnestly and frequently, I might have been now happy, and needed not stand trembling here to receive the dismal Sentence.—But this so dismal a Consideration, that I can carry it on no farther." Dean Willis's Sermon before the Charity Schools in London.

the divine Blessing, could this Attempt, so large in its Extent, so expensive in the necessary Charges attending it, notwithstanding all possible Oeconomy, have subsisted so many Years, without any settled Fund or certain Annuities, but only what may be called accidental Benefactions from Time to Time by well-disposed Persons; Persons whose Names are in the Book of Life, but most of them unknown to me; there is undoubtedly a distinct Record of their Charities in Heaven, which will never be forgotten, or unrewarded. We cannot rationally imagine they would have been so liberal in their charitable Donations for the Instruction of despicable poor Wretches, beneath the Regard of other People, if the good Spirit of their heavenly Father did not dispose their Minds, in great Mercy, to pity and befriend them.

MAY we not hope then, without Presumption, that the Hand of God will be always with a Work of this Kind? I take the Liberty of mentioning this for the Encouragement of all who for Christ, our Saviour's sake, will please to assist the promoting of it. Whoever are disposed, by the Grace of God, to become humbly, sincerely and actively ingaged in a Charity of this Kind, have the Comfort of being Workers together with God. They labour to promote the infinitely gracious Design of his only begotten Son's Advent into the World, who came down from Heaven, agreeably to the prophetic Character of him, to save the Children of the Needy.

YOU, Sir, very well know, that of every Christian Grace and Virtue, Charity is the most sublime and and acceptable, and of all Charities that to the Souls of Men infinitely excels all; it can never be stretched higher than to rescue Thousands of miserable Creatures from endless Perdition. What greater Instance of Mercy can there be? If it be a dismal Sight to see Thousands of the Poor ready to faint, and perish for want of Food for their Bodies, (and it is surely great Charity to relieve them;) is it not unspeakably more shocking to see many Thousands of poor Souls fainting for want of good Catechising, and perishing for ever for lack of Knowledge? For though a poor Man's Body starve for want of Food, yet his Soul may be carried with Lazarus by the Angels of God into Heaven; but if his Soul is starved for want of Christian Instruction, his Body and Soul must go to another Place;—dreadful to name!

I MENTION Catechising, as it is a particular and absolutely necessary Kind of Instruction for laying the Foundation of Christian Knowledge; without which, as I have shewed in former Letters, from the sound Opinions, Observations and Experience of our best Divines, the whole Building will totter and fall. It is to the Want of this, we may justly impute the unsuccessfulness of Preaching, and other Means of instructing and reforming the People.

BUT by Catechising (as a pious Author says, in a Letter of Advice to a young Clergyman) I do not mean the bare asking the Questions, and hearing them repeat the Answers, just as they lie in the Catechism, for this is not to instruct, and examine them, as the Rubric requires; and if no

no more than this be done, we had even as good do nothing; for they will learn but little, or nothing from a mere Repitition. I have heard some repeat the Creed very readily, and when they had so done, not been able to tell you, whether they had ever heard of such a Person as JESUS CHRIST. As a Clergyman then (adds the above mentioned Author) you must condescend to be at the Pains of giving them an easy Explanation to understand every Part of their Catechism, to ask them the same Questions in other Words, and to furnish them with plain Texts of Scripture to confirm them in the Doctrine they learn; and then to close every Instruction of the Catechumens with some short Exhortation for their Direction and Encouragement; which you may very well do extempore, for being Master of it yourself, as every Minister ought to be, you can want neither Words nor Matter. Such a familiar Way of speaking to them, will not only make a deeper Impression on weak and vulgar Capacities, of both young and old People, but the Custom and Practice of it will bring a Clergyman by Degrees to express himself with Ease and Readiness upon any Occasion. Whatever Excuses may be made for neglecting, or superficially performing the absolutely necessary Duty of Catechising; however plausible the Pretences may be, they ought to be looked upon as the Whispers of Satan, and should be rejected with Indignation and Horror. That Deluge of Irreligion, Vice and Immorality, that is like to carry all before it, is too much owing ing to that shameful Negligence and wretched Indifferency, with which this great Concern is managed in too many Places.

I know not whether the true Friends of our Christian Religion, the Reputation of which is now so dreadfully sunk, can shew it more Kindness, or do it better Service, whether they be Pastors, Parents, Householders, Schoolmasters and Tutors, or other pious Persons, than to labour earnestly and assist every Way to carry on a truly Christian Instruction of young People and Children. This would be, not only the greatest Charity to their Souls, but likewise one of the likeliest Means of reforming the Nation by Degrees. To inculcate on their Minds with becoming Zeal, the Doctrine of Christ, would by his holy Spirit exert its vital Energy to renew them in the Spirit of their Minds. For, saith the blessed Jesus, the Words that I speak unto you, they are Spirit, and they are Life; Words accompanied with a spiritual and living Efficacy. What better Means can then be made use of toward reforming the Poor? As for the Education of most others, it is commonly directed another Way; viz. to recommend, and qualify them for the Honours and lucrative Employments of this World, without implanting the most necessary Qualification of true Christianity in their Hearts; which is the Chief and most needful Qualification for all Stations in Life, and for the Amendment of the World; and yet this, at the upper End of the World, is very much neglected. Hence some have said, that the Reformation, of a corrupt and degenerate Age, is more to be expected from the Children of the Poor, than from the Children of the Rich, who naturally are equally corrupt; but the Difference lies in their different Education. The Grace of God, and his Providence, sometimes bring mighty Things to pass by weak and seemingly inefficacious Means.

I BELIEVE, Sir, it is the unanimous Opinion of all serious People who consider, in Scripture Light, the usual Ways of divine Providence, that now, under so great a Decay of Religion, and so great Increase of all Impieties, Reformation must be indispensably necessary, if we would reasonably hope for Protection, and Deliverance from the Judgments of Heaven, and from the Fury of our Enemies. It is true indeed, that the Lord of Hosts hath been pleased in his infinite Mercy, to bless us with some late, and great Successes; for which, and for his many other wonderful Deliverances, the whole Nation should offer up to our long-suffering, and infinitely gracious God, the Sacrifices of their sincere Thanksgivings. And how can we do it better than as the holy Spirit of God directs, to do good and to communicate forget not; or as Beaufobre and L'enfant very properly translate the Words, to do good to the Poor, and to help them to forget not; for with such Sacrifices God is well pleased; which the Apostle by the same good Spirit calls, an Odour of a sweet Smell, a Sacrifice acceptable, and well pleasing to God.

If, after so many signal Mercies, and wonderful Deliverances, we continue still unholy, unthankful thankful and unreformed, I fear, the Long-suffering of God will only harden us to grow ripe the faster for full Vials of divine Wrath to be poured down upon us. The late Successes we have been blessed with in our Battles with the Enemy, our past Deliverances, great and numerous, gracious and wonderful as they were, will yet not insure our future Protection, if the Gospel of our Saviour doth not, by his Grace, succeed to reform us. For you know how that the Lord having saved the People out of the Land of Egypt, by many very wonderful and miraculous Deliverances, afterward destroyed them that believed not: And we are told by Him that cannot lie, whether we believe it or no, that these Things happened unto them for Examples, and were written for our Admonition.

IT is some, and indeed no small Consolation, while the too numerous Patrons of Infidelity are endeavouring maliciously to undermine Christianity, others glutting themselves in Debauchery, glorying in their Shame, Irreligion and Profaneness abounding almost everywhere, through the Remissness of too many who should stand in the Gap, but look on with Indifference, care not for these Things, and perhaps impiously ridicule all serious Attempts of reforming the People; that Religion hath still a Party, and some true Friends amongst us; who would be willing to exert their best Endeavours, without scrupling any Pains or Cost, to promote the Revival and Influence of it, if they knew how to accomplish so desirable an End; and to say the Truth, no true

true Christian can be satisfied with a religious Profession that costs him nothing.

You have, Sir, my humble Thoughts about the pious Education of Youth, as being one of the likeliest Means to contribute not a little towards it; without which, Experience shews, other Means, even the Ministry itself, cannot succeed so well. Of what Service would it be to read Lectures of Philosophy to Hearers who were never instructed in the Rudiments of it? Much the same will Sermons commonly be, to such as were never taught the first Principles of Religion.

As I am now arrived to the Years when Strength is but Labour and Sorrow, it is not improbable but this may be the last Opportunity of my saying any Thing thus publicly in favour of my poor Brethren, or of the Success of this Method of instructing them, yet I design to proceed, so long as the Help of God, and the good Will and Prayers of the well disposed, shall enable me. I pray God amply to reward all the Fellow-Labourers in this extremely needful Charity, and all the Christian Friends that pray for the Success of it; many do, which I hope they will continue to do; for the effectual fervent Prayers of righteous Men availeth much.

May the Blessing of them who were ready to perish come upon you, who have been Eyes to the Blind, enlightening their Minds with Christian Knowledge; Feet to the Lame, assisting them to walk in the Ways of God; and Fathers to the poor Orphans who had no Father of their own that could do any thing for their immortal Part. I cannot wish you a better Recompence in this World, for all the Good you have done already, than a continual Exercise of your benevolent Compassion to the Souls of the Miserable; nor in the World to come a greater Reward or Glory, than what is promised to the Charitable, and such as are instrumental in turning many unto Righteousness.

INDEED, the strongest and noblest Motive of all, to promote Religion among the Poor and Ignorant, is the  fervent Gratitude we owe to our ever  dear Redeemer  Jesus Christ; through whom alone, both our Persons, Alms and Duties, can be acceptable before God; and who came, in his  infinite Love, to purchase Salvation for sinful  Mankind, whilst the fallen Angels were left in utter Despair,  reserved in Chains of Darkness to the Judgment of the great Day. They, who with an Eye of Faith, behold the Salvation of the Lord, and believe in him for the Remission of their Sins, cannot but  love him; and  loving of him is always the best Evidence that our Sins are forgiven indeed;  every one to whom much is forgiven will love him much. And how can we better express this  Love, than in promoting the Doctrines of  his Gospel, the  Advancement of his Kingdom, and the  Salvation of lost Souls, for whom he bled, and even died to save them? The Souls of the Poor and little Ones, dear and precious most certainly in the Sight of God, virtually cry for your Help; they have nothing of their own, but their Misery to recommend them to your Charity;
athirst

athirst for saving Knowledge, they implore your Assistance for the Conveyance of it to them for Christ's sake, who will retaliate and own your Kindness as done to himself *.

You

* — “ Is it not a very encouraging Motive to the Exercise of this sort of Charity, that whosoever is thus instrumental in converting Sinners from the Error of their Ways, or keeping neglected Youth from the Paths of the Destroyer, shall save many Souls from Death, and hide Multitudes of Sins ; Sins that would otherwise be derived down from Father to Son, in too certain and constant a Succession ?

“ And as the Prospect of advancing God's Glory, and procuring so much Good to Mankind, is, I question not, a very powerful Incitement with you, to abound still more and more in this Labour of Love ; so, I should hope too it may be sufficient to provoke all those that have any Spark of godly Zeal, any Christian Sympathy, any kind of generous Passions in their Breasts, to put their helping Hand to this blessed Work, and strive together with you for the Honour of the Gospel, and for the Recovery of those Little Ones, who are scattered, (alas !) almost every where, like Sheep without a Shepherd ; although it is not the Will of our heavenly Father, that one of them should perish.

“ And, O that the Number of Fellow-Helpers in this necessary Work might daily increase ! O that it might be a growing Emulation among Christians, thus to approve themselves zealous and passionate Lovers of Souls ! Were there never so many engaged in this noble Strife, there would be Room for them all to excel ; nay, and Room for all to receive the Prize too, and to become Joint-Sharers in the same Hope of Joy and Crown of Rejoicing. And, when the Rich and Poor shall meet together at last, before the Judgment-Seat of Christ, and a particular Inquisition shall be made after Works of Mercy, then (may we piously presume) shall these very Little Ones appear, and cheerfully testify on Behalf of their Benefactors ; We were an hungred, and they have fed us ; we were naked, and they have clothed us ; we were ignorant, and they have instructed us ; we were base and vile, and they refined us ; we were in a manner

You have therefore great Encouragement to go on in this Labour of Love, in every Place where it may please God to open a Way for it. You co-operate with the Saviour of the World in helping to save those for whom he suffered the cursed Death of the Cross. The Hand of God is with you, and your Reward with him; the Harvest is great, and the Work prosperous: and that it may prosper more and more every where, is the earnest Prayer of,

HONoured SIR,

Your most Obligated, and

Most thankful humble Servant,

Carmarthenshire, Oct. 5, 1758.

EXTRACTS of LETTERS and CERTIFICATES received from Michaelmas 1757, to Michaelmas 1758, from several Clergymen and others, concerning the Circulating Welch Charity Schools, and the Behaviour of the Masters therein employed, in the Counties of South and North Wales.

N. B. Many more Certificates have been received, than are thought necessary to be published.

Gwytherin in Denbighshire, Nov. 17, 1757.

Reverend Sir,

W—F—the Charity School Teacher, has applied for another Certificate of his Conduct. The Proficiency his Scholars have made in so short a Time have convinced me of his Capacity and Conduct. It is Perseverance only that keeps Honour bright. I therefore assure you, that I shall no more Certify for this Man's good Behaviour, than Justice to the poor Children, as well as my own Conscience tells me, he deserves it. The Poverty of the Parishioners forbid all Hopes of making any Addition to the pious Benefaction, though they seem very thankful for the Benefit they receive thereby; wishing they had it in their Power to make the least Return. Succeeding Ministers at Gwytherin will find Persons to answer the Responses in Church, which we at present have not, the very Parish Clerk being illiterate. You must be sensible how great an Inconveniency this is, which the Continuance of your Charity will prevent.—Your's, &c.

Hugh Davies, Curate.

Gwynvey-Chapel in Langatock, Carmarthenshire,
December 10, 1757.

Reverend SIR,

THE Welsh Charity School that you were pleased to bestow upon the poor Inhabitants of this Chapelry, has done so much Good that they beg of me to return you their unfeigned Thanks, the great Progress the Children made in so short a Time, I myself am Witness to: They have been before me repeating the Church Catechism by Heart, and the Exposition of the same. And many of them can, and do make the Responses on Sundays publicly in the Chapel, and say their Amen now, with an audible Voice; and some of them can read tolerably well, as the School-Master directs them; and they do use the Prayers of the Church at Home, with their poor and ignorant Family: And most of them now can say the Graces before and after Meat, which they could not before. And as the said Schoolmaster has been very diligent and successful in his Office the last Quarter, always attending divine Service, makes me humbly beg you will continue him for one Quarter longer, for the sake of the Illiterate here; for we have great Reason to praise God for his Kindness to us, in raising such Instruments for the eternal Welfare of the poor and ignorant People, ple, and that God may reward you here and hereafter for these your good Deeds, is the sincere Prayer of, &c.

John Williams, Curate of Gwinvey.

Llangatock in Carmarthenshire, Dec. 12, 1757.

SIR,

W—I—has for some Time taught a Welsh School in the Hamlet of Gwinfe in this Parish. His Behaviour, as heretofore, has been pious, careful and industrious. I have the best Evidence of his Fidelity in the Discharge of his Trust, from the Proficiency the Children have made. I examined them Yesterday at our Church, as I did once before at the Chapel of Gwinvey: I found them very perfect in the Church Catechism, and some of them in a good Part of the Exposition of it. I do not doubt but it will give you the same Pleasure to hear, as it did me to observe, that their Behaviour at divine Service was not only decent, but devout; and that they made the proper Responses in a regular Manner. The Children have got by Heart Prayers for Morning and Evening, and likewise short Graces before and after Meat; if they use these in their respective Families, as they say they do, the good Effect thereof may be very considerable, for the ignorant Parents may be taught from the Mouths of Babes to glorify their Creator.—The Master has done his Part, by training up those under his Inspection in the Way they should go; whereas without his Assistance they might very likely have been trained in the Way they should not go. God grant that the Rest of their Lives may be according to this Beginning. I am, &c.

Ow. Evans, Vicar of Langatock.

Trelech in Carmarthenshire, Dec. 27, 1757.

Reverend SIR,

I Find the Scholars in the Welch Charity School last Quarter were about Ninety; when I was there last, the Number at School then was Fifty Five, and upon Examination it appeared that they came on as well as can be expected in so short a Time. O that we may all, with Zeal, Vigour and Prudence, make the best use of the Advantages that our most gracious God has put in our Hands towards promoting his Glory, and the spiritual Welfare of our poor fellow Creatures, especially now, when the Most High and jealous Jehovah threatens the Nation with so many dreadful Visitations. Dear Sir, we return you our most unfeigned and joint Thanks for so many repeated Favours you have pleased to bestow upon us. My chief Hope of being useful in this Parish, is, under God, the Assistance of this Charity; which indeed, has been very extensive, not only in granting us the School, but likewise in bestowing so many Welch Books gratis on my poor Neighbours and Parishioners. In justice to the Welch Schoolmaster you were pleased to favour us with in this Parish, I certify, that his Character in every Respect, and his Qualifications to discharge the Trust reposed in him, are unexceptionable: his Diligence and Faithfulness is visible by the Improvement his Pupils made in so short a Time, which is not inconsiderable, though most of them were Beginners and very young.

The

The Poor here esteem the Welch Schools as one of the greatest Blessings, that ever divine Providence bestowed upon them, as they are Means, under the Influence of the holy Spirit, to bring their little Ones to the Knowledge of God and of his Son Jesus Christ, the Lord our Righteousness; who, otherwise would have been left to the wide World without any Instruction, and almost, if not altogether, as ignorant of the Things that pertain to their Peace with God, as the miserable Inhabitants of India; miserable indeed! and dreadful Condition this!

As the School is so considerable, we desire the Continuance of the Master in the same Place for some Time longer; thereby you will still lay more Obligations on him, who, &c.

Reverend SIR,

WHAT I said formerly in Commendation of I-D—Master of the Welch Charity School in this Village, I must again repeat, if I do Justice to his Character, since he has not at all slackened his Industry in attending constantly his School: this I can assure you upon my own Knowledge, both by what I saw and observed; and the Children under his Care I examined in their Catechism, and found they could repeat it all very distinct and well, except two or three of the youngest; and what they did repeat, they seemed to understand, having learned your Exposition on it, in that Part they did repeat; this the Master is to be commended for, since he is not desirous any of his Scholars should appear like Parrots. That it

it may please God to give them Grace to practise that which they have learnt, so as to answer the End of that laudable Charity in giving them such Advantage, are the sincere Wishes of, &c.

George Harries, Rector.

Llangendeirn in Carmarthenshire, Jan. 16, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

WHEREAS a Welsh Charity School has for some time past been taught at a Place called Cae'r Canvas in the Parish of Llanelly, and a considerable Number of my Parishioners of Llangendeirn, both young and old, have duly attended it, and were greatly benefited thereby; I have been desired by them to return you their Thanks, as I do my own hearty Thanks, for so valuable a Favour; and by Reason that many of them could not attend but only in the Night Time (being obliged to Work hard by Day to earn their daily Bread) whereby they were incapacitated from making so great an Improvement in Christian Knowledge as what they might have otherwise done; it is their earnest Request, Sir, that you would be pleased to vouchsafe them a Continuance of the said School, for one Quarter longer, in order that they may perfect what they have already so happily begun; for in my humble Opinion, no Corner of our Country stands in greater need of Christian Instruction. Your Compliance with this Request will be an additional Obligation to all those already conferred upon, &c.

James Edwards, Curate.

Reverend SIR,

THIS is to certify, that G—I—Teacher of a Charity School at Llanbaiarn, had the last Quarter above Five and Twenty Scholars under his Care, which is a considerable Number in such a small Parish as this, and at a cold Time of the Year. I examined them all one Morning, and found some a Spelling and others a Reading tolerably well, and he very sober and careful about them. This kind of Teaching is the most useful Charity ever thought of, for it brings Children early to see the one Thing necessary; and Education without any Knowledge of Religion, is like painted Glafs, that nothing is seen through it; so the politest Knowledge, without Knowledge of Scripture, must be tinctured with some Pride and Prejudice, to darken the Understanding and pervert the Mind. This School may well be compared to that Window the Jews had in their Oratories, which always pointed to their Kibla, or places of Worship; which shews that Religion should be the chief Object of our Knowledge, and that, with the great Apostle, we should reckon no Knowledge of any Account, without the Knowledge of Jesus Christ, and him crucified. I am, &c.

Richard Nanney, Rector of the same.

Aberffraw

Aberffraw in Anglesea, Jan. 29, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

WE have been favoured with a Welch Charity School, at the Parish and Town of Aberffraw, for the last Quarter ending Yesterday. I—P— the Master thereof, behaved himself sober and diligent, and the Children under his Inspection have made what advances in their Christian Knowledge could be expected from their Years. Their Parents acknowledge the Favour done their Children with a deep Sense of Gratitude. And indeed whoever gives himself the Trouble to review the languid Condition of the Christian Religion in these Countries, a few Years ago, and the present Eagerness of the People to procure these Seminaries, and godly Books, especially Welch Bibles; cannot but readily confess, that the Hand of God is in this Affair; and therefore must think himself obliged in Duty to God and Man, to adore the one, and thankfully to acknowledge the Value of this noblest Charity, the generous Contributors have thought proper to disburse to save perishing Souls. Was all the World equally affected with the real Necessity of such Methods of reviving the only Religion which can possibly elevate Man, and bring us to the Substance from the Shadow and Form of Godliness; I cannot well conceive, but Clergy and Laity would be so pressing upon you, Sir, that it would be almost impossible to hold up a Fund, answerable to support the Expence thereof; but God, who better knows his Time and Method of Operation, knows also when to strike out Floods of living Waters from the most rocky Hearts.

I am

I am sorry, Sir, to detain you so long, nor would I have done it, if I had not been sensible that your generous and Christian Disposition would be very ill used, if the slender Tribute of Gratitude and an Acknowledgment of the Assistance done me towards a Discharge of my Duty, and the qualifying of my Parishioners to receive greater Impressions from what is delivered them publicly to heal their Souls, was not cordially complied with, by, &c

Hugh Williams, Rector Ibid.

Langan in Glamorganshire, Feb. 2, 1758.

Reverend S I R,

Notwithstanding the Shortness of the Days at this Time of the Year, the Children have proceeded better than I expected. Their Appearance in Church gives the Parishioners great Satisfaction, and their saying the Catechism publicly obliges their Hearers to allow, that it is a glorious Charity thus to instruct them so early. The Master is laborious amongst them, and teaches some Servants and grown People, by Night, and we desire he may continue another Quarter. Yours, &c.

David Pruddero, Rector of Langan.

P. S. This Clergyman adds in a Letter (Aug. 15.) That the Scholars improved beyond the Expectation of those who heard them examined; and that several adult Persons owned that the Instructions they received by hearing them Catechised, were fixed more in their Memory than what they heard from the Pulpit.

Llaneingan

Llaneingan in Carnarvenshire, Feb. 21, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

TIME permits me not to deliver my Sentiments of the present Condition of the Country, and consequently of the Circulating Welch Charity Schools. The Master of that taught at Llaneingan, behaved himself sober and diligent; but his Number of Pupils were not answerable to my Expectation; owing, as you will readily conclude, to the Scantiness of Provision, which still prevails in this Country. The People are really eager for the Continuance of them, and some of them almost angry, when they have an Intimation of their being likely to be discontinued. I am sorry to press too hard upon Good-naturedness, yet cannot but desire I may have the Favour of its Removal to another Parish I am Curate of. Your gratifying of this my Ambition I am no ways able to requite; but by my earnest Prayer to Him, that is able to recompence you and all the Benefactors, and to repay you your Bills of Exchange an Hundred-fold in a better World, and with better Enjoyments than this can afford. I am, with ardent Desire of your Welfare, &c.

A Letter from a Gentleman, in or near Llandiffiliogogo in Cardiganshire. Gwndwn, Feb. 4, 1758

Reverend SIR,

THE Benefit that our Neighbourhood received this last Quarter from the Welch School, incites us to bless God, and to return you our hearty Thanks, praying God to reward all the Pro-

Promoters of so needful a Charity, I make bold to acquaint you that M—R— the Schoolmaster at present in Llandissilio Parish has used his utmost Diligence in a very engaging and familiar Way, to draw People of all Ages to be taught with Delight and Pleasure: in this Manner the Young and the Old have reaped uncommon Benefit in so small a Time.—When the Parents and other Labourers, and indeed many Farmers, saw the Children so well instructed in the Principles of the Christian Religion, then they, who were of riper Years flocked there by Night, with their Candles and Fuels, desiring with great Concern to be likewise instructed. And I own, we, who were Standers by, had no small Pleasure and Satisfaction in seeing the Willingness of the Master to teach them, together with the Willingness of the Neighbourhood to be taught by him. I therefore pray God to prosper and increase the Number of faithful Schoolmasters. I hope you will take Notice of him for the Encouragement of others, and leave him to continue some Time longer here, which will oblige, &c.

Llwyn Dafydd in Cardiganshire.

THES E are to certify that M—R— Schoolmaster of the Welch Charity School taught at Llwyn Dafydd, in the Parish of Llandissilio-gogo, hath for a full Quarter there, taught Men, Women and Children, all according to their several Capacities, to spell, read, and to understand the Church Catechism, in its several Parts; and hath also instructed them in many other Articles by way of Question and Answer, in the Principles of

of the Christian Religion; together with Morning and Evening Prayer, two Graces and the Responses in divine Service. They have been often examined by me in private at the School-House, and on three several Sundays in public, in the two Churches of Llandissilio-gogo, and Llangrannog, where every one answered to the full Satisfaction of myself and all the Auditors. I do unfeignedly attest, and certify the same, who am, &c.

Ev. Evans, Minister of the said Parish.

P. S. I beg the Continuance of the School a little longer, the Master being a Man of a very sober Life and good Conversation, using Lenity and Affableness towards all his Scholars, and makes it his constant Care and Study to attend and edify both Men and Children that resort to him.

Lanvigan in Breconshire, Feb. 13, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

A S I - M—is quitting his School in my Parish, having spent three Quarters in it with Care and Affiduity, I can do no less than acknowledge, in the Name of my Parishioners, my Obligations to you for the Favour. I believe indeed, he does his Duty conscientiously, and the Children by their Examination in Church, shewed, that they have not been wanting in theirs. I pray God that they may continue in the Belief and Practice of what they have been instructed in. Then will they not forget to bless their Benefactors; but in due Time will, together with them (not being forgetful Hearers, but Doers of the Word) be blessed in their Deed. I am, &c.

Reverend Sir,

THIS is to certify that G—P—Schoolmaster of the Welch Charity School in the Parish of Keidio, has behaved soberly, and has been very industrious in his Function during the last Quarter, (ended Feb. 12.) for which inestimable Favour, my Parishioners, especially the poor Children's Parents and Self, return you and the pious Benefactors and Supporters of this exceeding necessary Charity, our sincerest Thanks: and may it prosper wherever it is bestowed, is the hearty Prayer of, &c.

Reverend Sir,

rishioners,

rishioners, have, of their own Accord, this Year, again on the late Fast-Day, as they also did the Year before, subscribed and sent you their Contributions of Five Pounds Eighteen Shillings and Seven Pence, towards carrying on so laudable and truly Christian Design; hoping through the Influence of divine Grace, it may redound to the Glory of God, and Salvation of the Poor; who, without the Assistance of their charitable Benefactors towards instructing of them, would in all probability continue groping in the Dark, without ever coming to the Knowledge of their Duty to God or Man. Aberystwith in Monmouthshire, March 9, 1758.

Reverend Sir,

THIS is to certify, that the Bearer hereof L—I— Master of the Welch Charity School here, has behaved himself for the last Quarter, which is out the Eleventh of this Instant, very diligent in teaching the Children committed to his Care; they have often publicly repeated the Church Catechism by Heart, and Part of the excellent Exposition thereof, to the great Satisfaction of the Congregation. The Parents of the Children and myself, return our most grateful Thanks for the beneficial Charity bestowed upon us. And that God of his Goodness may abundantly reward you, and the worthy Benefactors, with his Blessings here, and Happiness hereafter, is, and shall be the fervent and earnest Prayer of, &c.

Aberystwith in Monmouthshire, March 13, 1758.

Reverend Sir,

WE the Inhabitants of the Parish of Aberystwith in the County of Monmouth, return you our sincere and hearty Thanks, for the Benefit we have received through your Benevolence, in the Enjoyment of a Welsh Charity School this Year, as well as formerly, and the Distribution of Books amongst the Scholars, for their Edification and Instruction in the Principles of the Christian Religion. We are under an indispensable Obligation, always sincerely and constantly to pray, that the Almighty would bless you, and all those that promote so necessary, useful and beneficial a Work, in endeavouring to infuse, and rivet Christian Principles and Knowledge for reforming the Morals of the rising Generation, as well as the Ignorance of the Aged, in this dark and hilly Part of Wales. Dear Sir, we are with the utmost Sincerity, your, &c.

Signed by Eighteen of the said Parishioners.

Llywel in Breconshire, March 17, 1758.

THIS is to certify, that H—L— who taught a Welsh Charity School in this Parish, hath in all Respects behaved himself in a pious and sober Manner, and hath diligently instructed the Children under his Care, according to the Rules prescribed for him, which I can attest as I am Curate of the said Parish; and had the Pleasure to observe both the Conduct of the Master and Scholars: and to my Satisfaction, the Scholars made a good Progress in their Learning. Great many of them have learnt their Catechism. I have examined them publicly twice or thrice, their Number I remember not, but can assure the Benefactors they were great many; and could wish if agreeable to the said Benefactors, that so public a Good might be continued for one Quarter longer. And that God may reward the charitable Contributors, and shower down his Blessing upon all good Intentions, is the earnest Wish of, &c.

Cwmsidan in Llanfawr in Carmarthenshire, April 3, 1758.

— I Return you my most hearty Thanks for the great Blessing you bestowed upon the Poor and Vulgar of this Parish; hoping in the Almighty, that they will make good Use of it, and always pray for them that bestowed those Means of Grace and Knowledge upon them.—The Schoolmaster has now upwards of Fifty Scholars. He is exceeding diligent about them, and has performed great Wonders in so short a Time; great many that did not know so much as the Lord's Prayer, can now read distinctly, and repeat their Catechism by Heart before the whole Congregation, and a great Part of the Exposition. May God reward you and all Supporters of this Charity, is the hearty Prayer of, &c.

Phil. Davies.

Llanedi in Carmarthenshire, April 4, 1758.

Reverend Sir,

THIS is to certify, that T—O—Teacher of the circulating Welch Charity School in this Parish, bears a very good Character, and is careful and and diligent in the Business he is concerned in. The Improvement of the Children under his Care, in reading the Bible, and repeating the Catechism and the Exposition thereof in Welsh, has been so great, that it not only gives a Prospect in our Parish of the Christian Religion's flourishing in future Ages, but seems already to have enlivened it greatly even in this. Therefore the Continuance here of the said School is humbly begged for one Quarter longer. These happy Schemes (the Welsh Charity Schools) by your prudent and exact Regulation of them, and Care and Diligence of so capable and well-behaved Schoolmasters, must undoubtedly afford the greatest Pleasure in the Hearts of all good Christians, as they cannot fail of answering the End of their Institution, that is, the Glory of God, and the Salvation of Mens Souls. May God, the Author of all good Gifts, always enable the worthy Promoters and Managers thereof to support and carry on this Design; and, to that End, may this Parish, as well as other Parishes, be never wanting in its most hearty Thanks to God, and all good Men therein concerned, for so great a Blessing, is, with great Truth, the sincere Wishes of all my Parishioners, as well as of, &c.

Llangian in Carnarvonshire, May 12, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

I Hereby certify the generous Contributors towards this noblest Charity, the circulating Welsh Charity Schools, for the good Behaviour of R—E—Teacher of a School kept in the Parish Church of Llangian in the County of Carnarvon, for his
C 3 Quarter

Quarter ending to Morrow. It is truly lamentable that such an excellent Design reaps not its full Effect in its amplest Latitude; but it cannot be helped, when the Poor are so much distressed by the Height of the Market, which, God be praised, begins to become full, and benign to the Indigent. However, this Labour of Love is no Ways lost, but disperses visibly more and more. It has Influence upon the Negligent and Careless, from the Example of those already affected with its Benefits; so that Old and Young of the most profligate Race, own a Beauty of Holiness in the real Professors of Christ's Religion. May you, Sir, and all generous Promoters of Christ's Kingdom, prosper in all your noble Designs, and in the End, receive the eternal Kingdom of Glory for your Reward, is the sincere Prayer of, &c.

Llansadurn in Carmarthenshire, May 29, 1758.

Dear Sir,

I Think myself under an indispensable Duty, to send you an Account of the present Situation of the Welch Charity School in the Parish of Llansadurn, at a Place called Wein-Glin-da; the Progress made in Reading, and in the Principles of the Christian Religion, by adult Persons and Youth, is to my Admiration: the Master's Behaviour is unexceptionably good. He often goes, late in the Evening, when School Time is over, to some Neighbour's House, where he spends some Hours in Catechising and inculcating the Principles of Religion, to the great Advantage of whole Families; he himself, and those committed to his Care, attend the Church constantly on Sundays, days, where their Behaviour is very decent, with regard to the repeating of the Church Catechism, in a distinct Manner, the Exposition thereof, and the two Prayers they are in great Measure Masters of; and they appear to me to repeat them with due Attention and Devotion. The above Account I can give from my own Knowledge, having often examined them publicly in Church, to the Edification of the whole Congregation; and privately in School, to my own Satisfaction. My Parishioners and Self join in returning due Thanks to the pious and well-disposed Contributors, and Encouragers of so excellent a Charity; not doubting, but that they will hereafter shine in Glory, as Stars of the first Magnitude: And I do assure you, Sir, that my best Endeavours shall not be wanting in carrying on a Work of Charity that has been most excellently begun. If consistent with the Rules of the Schools, it would be an additional Obligation laid upon my Parishioners, and Self, to continue the present Master at Lansadurn for some Time longer, which, I hope, under God, will be of Advantage to great many dear and immortal Souls. I am, &c.

Llanfairmathafam Eitha in Anglesea, June 4, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

I Do hereby certify, that O—O— Parish Clerk of Llanfairmathafam Eitha, performed the Office of a Schoolmaster in the Parish Church of Llanfair aforesaid, who, being very well qualified for the Employment, discharged his Duty faithfully and honestly, by a sober, regular and exemplary Deportment, and Industry in inculcating the Principles of the Christian Religion upon the tender Minds of such as were committed to his Care, and teaching them to repeat and utter the Responses audibly and decently. The Distance I live at from the School, permits me not the frequent Opportunities I could wish of a narrower Inspection into the Number of Scholars; however, I am well satisfied, not only of its Usefulness, but that Numbers in my Parish have reaped, (I speak by Experience) incredible Advantage by it, and that the Master's Conduct (as far as I could learn) has been unexceptionable in all Respects. I beg leave, in the Name of all the Persons who partake of the Benefit of the said School, as well as for myself, to return our grateful Acknowledgment and due Thanks to you, and all the worthy Supporters of this most excellent Charity, bestowed upon our poor ignorant fellow Creatures: And I pray God, it may prosper wherever it is bestowed, and that the Glory of God may be advanced thereby, in the Salvation of poor Souls, and that the Christian Promoters of it, may be rewarded an Hundred-fold. I am, &c.

Penrhôs in Anglesea, June 8, 1758.

I Do hereby certify, that T—Q—Master of the circulating Welsh Charity School in this Parish, hath behaved himself soberly, and hath been very careful and diligent in instructing those poor Children committed to his Care, to spell and read the Welsh Language: and as the most Part of them are so very young that they cannot make a great Proficiency in so short a Time, yet am in Hopes (under God) that in another Quarter, they will be able to read well, and give an Account of themselves selves in the Principles of the Christian Religion, These Childrens Parents are highly pleased and satisfied with the Conduct of the said Schoolmaster, who, all join with me, in sincere and hearty Thanks to, and Prayers for the good Benefactors, and pious Promoters of this most necessary and laudable Charity, &c.

St Brides Minor in Glamorganshire, June 12, 1758.

THIS is to certify, that M—E—hath taught a Welch Charity School at Velin vâch in the Parish of St Brides Minor, in the County of Glamorgan, for half a Year, ending the Twelfth of this present Instant, that she is a Person of unquestionable Character, and hath acquitted herself with Diligence and Success in the Discharge of her Duty. Her poor Scholars have been several Times catechised in Church at the Time of divine Service, and always answered to Satisfaction. I am, &c.

John Charles, Rector of St Brides Minor.

Kelly-Gare in Glamorganshire, July 13, 1758.

Reverend S I R,

I Do hereby (in behalf of myself and Parishioners, and more especially the Poor of this large Parish) return you and all your fellow Labourers, my best Thanks for the great Favour of having at several Times past the Benefit of one of your Welch Charity Schools, as well as for the present One, taught by L—I—at Chwyd-y-vedw in our Parish. The Number of poor Children under his Tuition,

Truitions are Fifty, who were catechised on Sunday
 the Twenty fifth of last Month at our Parish Church, before a numerous Congregation; who, considering that neither of them before had an Opportunity to know the Difference of one Letter from another, and who must have continued in that deplorable Condition, had it not been for this noble and blessed Undertaking, answered
 the Church Catechism, and some other necessary Questions in the Fundamentals of the Christian Religion, to the Admiration of all the Congregation; who all desired to return Thanks for the great Benefit of this Charity to the Poor. The Congregation commended the Schoolmaster, who indeed deserves Commendation, and behaves himself becoming the Trust reposed in him. The Place where the School is at present is somewhat Mountainous, where there never was a School before, though I attempted several Times to settle one there for the Benefit of their poor Souls;
 but my Endeavours about it always proved ineffectual, until this very Time. After the Master had instructed the Children for some Time in the Principles of Religion, which their Parents were ignorant of, both their Parents and others came to the School to hear them examined, who, all admired the Master, and the Progress the Children had made; counting it a kind of Miracle. The Fame of this spread through the whole Neighbourhood, insomuch that their Number increased immediately to Fifty Scholars; and now heartily pray for the Continuance of the School, and the same Teacher, and beg of me to interceed with you for them. Such was the Ignorance of some of the Children, about fifteen Years old, as never to have been present at any Place of divine Worship before. This is shocking indeed! but the Schoolmaster and others can very well certify the Truth

Truth of it, the several Questions the poor Children asked the Master, shewed their gross and incredible Ignorance, which together, with the general Call that is now for Instruction in every Quarter of those Hamlets, will move you, to pity them; and indeed if the School should be taken away, they would be too apt to sail against me, which I hope your Continuance of it will prevent. I have several other Motives to offer, but am afraid of being too troublesome, therefore I conclude, wishing you Health and Happiness in this World, and a Hundred-fold Reward in the next. May these Fifty poor Children, together with Thousands of others, praise God in the Day of Judgment, for the Assistance of this Charity to deliver them from eternal Misery, and may I also with them acknowledge the great Help I received towards discharging my Duty. I am, &c.

George Parry, Curate of Kellygare.

Reverend SIR,

THIS waits of you to certify the good, regular and industrious Behaviour of J—T—the Welch Schoolmaster, who for this last Quarter, in my Parish of Blaen-porth, had under his care many Scholars, whom he instructed faithfully during their Stay under his Tuition, especially in the catechetical Part; his Scholars can, in their own Words, by questioning of them, run through all the most material Parts of a Body of Divinity; many of them have learnt several Parts of your Exposition on the Church Catechism, which by often examining of them, gave me and others uncommon Satisfaction. It is a very agreeable Sight

Sight indeed, to see a full School, many in Raggs, all upon Charity, learning thus to put on Christ. What a Curb this will be, through divine Grace, to stop many Children from running headlong to Destruction! It tends to subdue their Passions, and Disorders which betray most People to many Evils in this Life.—Too many may be seen in our Days, some Scores of Years old, as thoughtless of the eternal World as if they had almost never heard of it, and as ignorant almost as Indians, all owing to the want of catechetical Instruction when young. What excellent Attempts are made in our Days, towards the Reformation of the present, at least of the rising Generation, is visible to every one that considers the Benefit of these catechising Schools; may they spread and prosper, and the Promotion of them be amply rewarded, is the sincere Prayer of, &c.

John Thomas, Curate of Blaen-porth.

Ystrad-Owen in Glamorganshire, July 30, 1758.

Reverend SIR,

THIS is to certify that R—I—Teacher of the Welsh Charity School in our Parish Church for the last Quarter, has behaved herself very civil and regular, and discharged her Duty with so great Industry, that the poor Children under her Tuition have in so short a Time, made an uncommon Proficiency in their Spelling, Reading, and repeating the Church Catechism, though great many of them are the youngest of all that I ever taught and examined; yet in examining them, at different Times, they answered extremely well, to the agreeable Surprise of all the Congregation, and my great Satisfaction: for which, may

may God Almighty amply reward you, and all others, who are generous Benefactors in contributing towards teaching and furthering the Ignorant in the Paths of divine Knowledge, is the sincere Prayers of, as well themselves, their Parents and Parishioners, and also of your, &c.

Bullbook in Pembrokeshire, August 1, 1751.

Reverend Sir,

THE Bearer hereof, being Welsh School-master at my Cure in Maenclochog, has been so diligent in his Office, that there are three of his Scholars, that can repeat Parts of your Exposition on the Catechism. I have examined them last Sunday, and find, that they make a very good Progress therein, which is, in every Respect, owing to their Master's Diligence; therefore I must desire of you to continue him this Quarter in my Parish, because I find such charitable Work contributes much to the Glory of God, in bringing poor Souls from Darkness to Light, and to the Knowledge of the Things which belong to Salvation. I am sensible, there are great many poor Children in my Parish, who, for what I know, would perish in Ignorance, if it were not for such a School. Your Compliance therein will highly oblige, &c.

Griffith Twining, Curate of Maenclochog.

Penmachno in Carnarvonshire, August 17, 1758.

THIS is to certify whom it may concern, that I—I—Master of the Welsh Charity School at Penmachno, has behaved in all Respects sober

sober and regular, and was very faithful in discharging his Duty conformable to the prescribed Rules of the said Schools. I have often visited his Scholars, whom, upon Examination, I found to be well instructed, and to have made a considerable Progress, considering their tender Age, and the short Time they have been under his Instruction; but some of the Scholars are so poor, that they are necessitated to go about to beg their Bread, and cannot constantly attend; however they are in a fair Way of acquiring that Knowledge of God and Jesus Christ his Son, that will bring them to eternal Life through the Grace of God, which is owing to the Care of the Master, who takes great Pains with them, in teaching them when they can conveniently attend him. The poor Childrens Parents are duly sensible of the Benefit they have already received, and are still likely to receive from this noble Benefaction, provided the School may be conveniently permitted to continue here for some Time longer. They likewise join with me in returning our grateful Acknowledgment and sincere Thanks to the Promoters of this most beneficial Charity, the best ever bestowed upon the poor Inhabitants of Wales; as it is the most useful Method ever thought on, of promoting Christian Knowledge amongst the Vulgar and Illiterate; who, on Account of their low Circumstances in Life, are unavoidably kept in the Dark, in regard to Things which pertain to their eternal Concerns, even the Salvation of their Souls. May Heaven bless the pious Endeavours of the Benefactors and Supporters thereof: May all Happiness attend them here, and may they receive an eternal Weight of Glory hereafter, is the sincere Wish of, &c.

Llanstephan in Carmarthenshire, Sep. 15. 1758.

Reverend SIR,

B EING employed this Year to perform Welch Duty in the Parish Church of Laugbarne, I am by the Direction of the Reverend Mr Stanford, the Vicar thereof, to certify, that the Welch Schoolmaster in that Parish brought his Scholars to the said Church, where I publicly examined them in the Church Catechism, and the Exposition thereof, who answered to the Satisfaction, and I hope, the Edification of myself, and the Congregation then present; by which it appeared, that the Schoolmaster had quitted himself faithfully in that important Trust, of instructing the poor Children of the said Parish, during the Time he continued there. May the Lord reward the Endeavours of all the Promoters of this best of Charities. The Tendency of the Welch Charity Schools, to increase the Knowledge, and revive the Spirit of Christianity among the poor Natives of Wales, cannot but be visible to all that have the Interest of their Saviour, and his Religion at Heart.—Catechising of Youth, and instilling into their Minds the Principles of sound Doctrine, is one of the most effectual Means, by God's Blessing, to stem the flowing Tide of Iniquity, and to bring on a Reformation amongst us. And what can more effectually guard the Minds of Youth against falling a Prey to Seducers, that lie in wait to deceive, than storing their Minds, when young and tender, with the pure Word of God.—To enlarge on the Usefulness of the circulating Welch Charity Schools is needless, since they have sufficiently recommended themselves to all that wish the endless Welfare of the Poor, and the Advance-

Advancement of our holy Religion. That God may reward the Benefactors, is the sincere Prayer of, &c.

Samuel Evans, Curate.

Holyhead in Anglesea, October 5, 1758.

THIS is to certify, that I—T— behaved diligently in his Office during the Quarter that he had the Care of the Welch circulating School in this Parish, as appears by the Proficiency of his Scholars, in so short a Time. The great Usefulness of the Welch Charity Schools appears so strongly from long Experience, that they stand in need of no further Recommendation: And I hope, that the Instruction gained thereby, will be a Means of introducing religious Conversation among our People; than which, nothing tends more to each other's Edification and mutual Furtherance in Grace and Godliness; and to the shameful want whereof it is chiefly owing that there is so little Appearance of Religion even on the Lord's Day; and that every Subject, is better relished by all Companies than the one Thing needful. That we may all strive to remedy this very sinful Neglect of our Duty, is the sincere Wish of,

Thomas Ellis, Lecturer of Holyhead.

An Account of the Circulating and Catechetical

WELCH CHARITY SCHOOLS,

FROM

Michaelmas 1757, to Michaelmas 1758.

In these Schools (supported by the Charitable Benefactions of the Well-disposed, whom we pray God to bless and reward) Men, Women and Children, being ignorant of the English Tongue, are taught to read their native British Language, and catechetically instructed every Day they are at School, and many in the Night who cannot attend by Day, in the Principles and Duties of Religion, out of the Church Catechism, and the Explanation of it, for Four or Five, and sometimes for Six Months, or longer, as those who desire to learn have need of them, and at such Times of the Year, as the Poor can best spare from their Labours to attend them.
